

"The most recent murders of women and children by TPLF shines a spotlight on their continued destruction across the region. These actions must be condemned across the world and immediate action must be taken. This assault will only end if the TPLF forces that began the conflict by attacking Ethiopia's military base in Tigray Region and other atrocities are held to account. We will investigate each of these acts of barbarity and prosecute to the furthest extent of the law." — Government of Ethiopia Spokesperson
